Air Liquide R&D Center

” Air Liquide International Internship Program 2003 (IIP) gave me incomparable experience allowing me to work in unknown environment which made me stronger in term of knowledge and spirit.

Sub-benefit to share time with world's top level students was also worth of saying "attractive" for me.

This IIP experience led me to join Air Liquide Group, world gas business leader, with a START program (AL international special program for high talents) 2005 after graduation from University of Tokyo as a master of Chemical Engineer”
